

Celebrating INTERNATIONAL ORGAN DAY

The University of Sydney &
The Organ Music Society Of Sydney present

INTRODUCING THE PIPE ORGAN
Sunday 19th October, 1.00pm - 4.30pm
GREAT HALL, UNIVERSITY OF SYDNEY (entry via quadrangle)

1.00pm - 2.00pm: Free Introduction to the Pipe Organ
with University Organist Amy Johansen (organ) and Sydney City
Organist Robert Ampt (narrator)

MUSIC, FUN, GAMES, A STORY AND PRIZES

Have a play on the mighty von Beckerath pipe organ in the Great Hall! Bring your best piano piece, or just improvise! Have Fun!

Although this presentation is aimed at 5-12 year olds, it will be enjoyed by everyone.

2.00pm: Free Carillon Recital by University Carillonist, Dr. Jill Forrest

Bring your lunch and relax in the quadrangle while listening to the War Memorial Carillon.

3.00pm: Following the carillon recital, climb the tower for an up-close demonstration of this rare instrument and to see the 54 bells, the largest weighing over 4 tonnes

Free Refreshments served in the Anteroom to the Great Hall

3.30pm: Free Organ Recital by University Organist, Amy Johansen (includes Bach's great Toccata and Fugue in D Minor)

Come and meet the Biggest, Most Complicated, Most Varied Musical Instrument on the Planet. You'll love it!

Parking: Available ($2/hr) in front of the Great Hall, but extremely limited. Parramatta Road or Glebe are better options.

For more information ring (02) 4758 6067
or visit www.usyd.edu.au/organ